Mars Bonfire, Steppenwolf's drummer's brother, saw a poster which said, "Born To Ride" with a photo of a motorbike taking off from the ground surrounded by fire. Around that time, he had bought his first car and that's how the idea came about to celebrate the freedom of being able to go where you want and when you want. NASA used "Born To Be Wild" to wake up their astronaut crews. And when a spaceship landed for the first time on Mars the small exploratory vehicle went down the ramp to the rhythm of "Get your motor running". In 2004 Paris Hilton asked permission to use the song in her reality show The Simple Life. The band refused. "There are things Rock'n'Roll can't accept."
